DAY TWO HIGHLIGHTS

- Five-time US Open champion Roger Federer, two-time champion Rafael Nadal and the man who beat both en route to the 2009 title, Juan Martin del Potro, are in first-round action at the USTA Billie Jean King National Tennis Center on Tuesday. Also on the order of play are No. 6 seed Dominic Thiem, No. 7 seed Grigor Dimitrov and No. 14 Nick Kyrgios. The 22-to 26-year-olds are seeking the first Grand Slam final of their respective young careers.

- Federer, who missed the 2016 US Open with a knee injury, returns to Arthur Ashe Stadium against #NextGenATP American Frances Tiafoe. The Swiss will tie Andre Agassi with his 33rd evening-session match, most among men since 1980. A second win in as many meetings over Tiafoe would give Federer 79 career victories at the US Open, tying Agassi for second-most in history. Another five-time champion, Jimmy Connors, owns the record with 98.

- Nadal headlines the day session on Arthur Ashe Stadium against Dusan Lajovic. In their only prior meeting, the Spaniard dropped only four games to Lajovic en route to the 2014 Roland Garros title. With another win over the Serbian, Nadal will ensure that Federer must reach the US Open semi-finals for a chance at reclaiming No. 1 in the Emirates ATP Rankings on Sept. 11. Nadal is 12-0 and Federer is 16-0 in first-round matches at the US Open.

- On Louis Armstrong Stadium, del Potro opens against Henri Laaksonen and Kyrgios clashes with fellow Aussie John Millman. Del Potro was ranked No. 142 during his 2016 US Open quarter-final run. He returns at No. 28, his highest ranking since Oct. 6-12, 2014. Kyrgios upset Nadal on Aug. 18 en route to the biggest final of his career at ATP Masters 1000 Cincinnati. He has yet to reach the fourth round at the US Open, where he could meet Federer.

- Two-time Grand Slam semi-finalists Thiem and Dimitrov will play on the second-year Grandstand. Thiem is 7-7 since reaching the Roland Garros semis. He meets 18-year-old Aussie Alex de Minaur, who has spent much of the season on the ATP Challenger Tour after winning his Australian Open debut. Dimitrov is trying to become the second Cincinnati champion in the last 10 years to win the US Open. He faces Vaclav Safranek, a 23-year-old Czech qualifier who is playing his first tour-level match after competing in 271 on the ITF Futures Circuit (174-97).

- Among the eight American men playing on Tuesday is Donald Young, who could equal a career-high with his 22nd win of the season (22-23 in 2015). Young faces fellow left-hander Maximilian Marterer, who is 0-9 in tour-level matches this season and 0-13 in his career. If anyone can empathize with the 22-year-old German qualifier, it's Young. He started his career 0-11 from 2005 through 2007, then suffered a 17-match losing streak in 2012.
