BARCLAYS ATP WORLD TOUR FINALS AND NATURE VALLEY TEAM UP FOR SEASON FINALE

LONDON – The ATP and leading global snack bar brand Nature Valley have today announced a new partnership with the Barclays ATP World Tour Finals, which will take place at The O2 in London from 13-20 November 2016.

Nature Valley, which produces a wide range of ‘better for you’ cereal bar snacks made with great tasting ingredients, will become a Gold Partner at the elite global season-ending event which will see the best eight qualified singles players and doubles teams in the world battle it out on court. The partnership will provide on-court brand visibility with both a sport and leisure-focused UK audience and wider worldwide viewers.

Not only does this partnership enable us to now reach a wider audience and hopefully inspire new consumers and tennis fans to discover our products, it also marks our continued commitment to a sport that shares our passion for inspiring a healthy active lifestyle. With Nature Valley Protein, we see this association becoming even stronger.”

Chris Kermode, ATP Executive Chairman and President, said: “We welcome Nature Valley, a leading global snack bar brand, on board as a Gold Partner of the Barclays ATP World Tour Finals. With more than 100 million global television viewers, and a footfall of approximately 400,000 people passing through The O2 across the eight days of the tournament, the Barclays ATP World Tour Finals offers a truly global platform and a wealth of marketing opportunities for our partners. We look forward to a successful partnership with Nature Valley.”
