IX. FEDEX ATP RANKINGS

9.03 FedEx ATP Rankings

A. Commitment Players & B. Non-commitment Players

- 1) Due to the suspension of the ATP Tour and impact of COVID-19 pandemic, the FedEx ATP Ranking from 16 March 2020 has been frozen except for players serving suspensions for Anti-Doping or Corruption offenses.

Any player who is under suspension for Anti-Doping and or Corruption offenses is not eligible to have his ranking frozen for the duration period of the player's suspension for Anti-Doping and/or Corruption reasons.
- 2) For all other players the points from the player's 16 March 2020 ranking breakdown are frozen and will have their drop date extended by 52 weeks or until the event is played again the following year (whichever occurs first), including the points earned at the 2019 Nitto ATP Finals which will drop on the Monday following the last ATP Tour event of 2021.
- 3) Until the end of 2021 there will be no ranking penalties issued to players for ATP events. ATP Masters 1000 commitment will remain for Bonus Pool purposes.
- 4) Results from events following the resumption of the ATP Tour in 2020, up until

and including the tournament week of 9 August 2021 will be added into the ATP Rankings in the following manner:

a) ATP Tour/Grand Slam Level Events:

2019 event will be replaced from a player's breakdown if that player plays the same event in 2020 and earns a better result.

- Results from all tournaments between 4 March – 5 August 2019, that were not played in 2020, will be extended a further 52-weeks and weighted at 50%. This reduction will occur at the originally designated drop date for each event and the 'Best Of' logic will only count the better of a player's two scores from the same Tour-level event.

2019 tournament results reduced to 50% will lose their mandatory status in player's ranking breakdowns and begin to be considered as 'Best Other'. For example, a player will be able to count either 50% of his 2019 Madrid result, or 100% of his 2021 Madrid result, whichever is greater, for the next 52 weeks.

2020 event will be replaced from a player's breakdown if that player plays the same event in 2021* and earns a better result.

- Results from rescheduled 2020 tournaments (Kitzbuhel, Hamburg, Rome & Roland-Garros) will also be included for additional 52 weeks at 50% from their originally scheduled drop date and be compared against the 2021 event in a 'Best Of' logic. The 2019 result of these four events will drop from the rankings as per their currently scheduled 2020 drop date.

(i) A player's result will only be replaced if the result is better.

aa) If the result is better, it will be considered a 'best other' for ranking purposes.

bb) If the player does not play the 2020/21* Main Draw because he did not have a high enough ranking to be an original main draw direct acceptance and never moved into the main draw, his previous year's result will be considered a 'best other'.

(ii) If a player earns fewer points or ties his previous year's result, his previous year's result will remain in his ranking.

(iii) If a player did not play the previous year's event, his result will count if better than the lowest "best other" .

(iv) If a player earned a 0-point ranking penalty his result can/will replace the 0-pointer if better.

(v) If a player earned a 0-point ranking penalty and does not play the following year's event his previous year's 0-point ranking penalty will remain in his ranking.

(vi) A player cannot count the same ATP Tour/Grand Slam result twice in his breakdown.

aa) Example: cannot count '19 and '20 or '20 and '21* result from the same tournament, will use the better of the two results.

(vii) An ATP Tour/Grand Slam qualifying result can/will be replaced by the main draw of that tournament and vice versa.

(viii) New results from ATP Tour/Grand Slam events in 2021 that replace the 2019 or 2020 event will stay on until event is played again the following year or 52 weeks, whichever occurs first.

 ATP Masters 1000 and 500 events TBC after 28 June 2021. Grand

CHALLENGER ADDENDUM

Slam events TBC.

b) ATP Challenger/ITF WTT Level Events:

Players who compete in ATP Challengers/ITF WTT events post the ATP Tour suspension will use the new, 2020/2021* result to replace their worst 'best other' result if the 2020/21* result is better.

Results from all tournaments between 4 March – 5 August 2019, that were not played in 2020, will be extended a further 52-weeks and weighted at 50%. This reduction will occur at the originally designated drop date for each event and counted in the 'Best Other' logic.

- (i) A player's worst 'best other' will only be replaced if the 2020/21* result from an ATP Challenger/ITF WTT event is better.
 - (ii) New results from an ATP Challenger/ITF WTT that replace player's worst 'best other' will stay on the players' FedEx ATP ranking for 52-weeks.
- 5) Beginning on 16 August 2021, the ATP rankings will add and drop points as per the ATP Rules prior to the COVID-19 pandemic outbreak. However, there will be no mandatory tournaments for ranking purposes through the end of 2021.
- 6) Tour-level tournaments with a ranking drop off date after 9 August 2021, including tournaments played during the revised ranking period (17 August 2020, to 9 August 2021), will be included in a player's ranking breakdown for 52 weeks, regardless of when the next edition of the tournament commences.

*Applicable for tournaments up to and including the week of 9 August 2021 only.

C. ATP Tour 500 – Ranking Penalty. There will be no ranking penalty assessed for any player withdrawing from an ATP Tour 500 event until and including the week of 28 June 2021, whether on time or after the 12-noon deadline.

F. Entry Protection

2) Calculation and Use. A player who has been out of competition and is applying for Entry Protection may not include any period of (Doping, Corruption and/or Conduct) suspension in the player's weeks away from competition in order to qualify for Entry Protection.

3) Limit of Use

- c) The use of a protected ranking to enter the singles and/or doubles of a Grand Slam event is limited to once per Grand Slam event except in situations where the COVID-19 suspension of the Tour leads to one or more Grand Slams not being held in a calendar year. In these situations, players would be allowed to use an otherwise valid entry protection for entry and competition at the same Grand Slam event more than once if not exceeding an overall limit of four Grand Slams in total.

6) COVID-19 Protected Ranking

Starting from 8 March 2021, players who are out of competition for four consecutive weeks will, on one occasion, be eligible for a COVID-19 Protected Ranking (CPR). The expiration of using the CPR is 21 March 2022 and is designed to allow players greater flexibility in their scheduling without harming their ability to enter future tournaments. The current length of being able to obtain a CPR is through and including the week of 8 November* 2021. Eligible players will be granted four entry opportunities, excluding ATP Cup, Grand Slams and/or the Olympic Games using their 'frozen' ranking.

*Applicable for tournaments up to and including the week of 9 August 2021 only.
